GARDENS ARE NOW AT THEIR BEST. Rare Plants and Flowers at the Fair Attract Visitors.

Visitors find that the gardens at the World's Fair are now at their best. Great masses of plants that were put out last masses of plants that were put out last spring have fulfilled expectations, and throughout the grounds one finds flowers ranging from the harder annuals and perennials to the tender budding plants. While in all the various gardens the usual bedding stock was relied on for immediate flowering, in the larger masses the better and rarer class of bedding material, both follage and flowering, is well represented. First among these in the flowering plants is the ageratum, in color a strong deep blue and in habit a dense plant, which will flower profusely until fall. This sepcial variety was originated by James Gurney, superintendent of Tower Grove Park, and in its improved form it outranks both in size and depth of color any other known form.

The lighter and more delicate blue is represented in the salvia farinacea, a plant that grows to about the height of the common red salvia, with long soikes of blue flowers instead of the familiar red. It is especially effective in masses and as a bedder deserves far more recognition than has been given it heretofore. Both or these plants are represented in the Cascade Gardens, which now present masses of red and blue, relieved slightly by narrow bands of yellow coleus and the gray centaurea.

CELEBRATE ALUMNI DAY.

Former Students of Lincoln Institute Gather at the Fair. Lincoln Institute Alumni Day was celebrated at the World's Fair yesterday by fully 800 former students of the State's normal school for negroes, who assembled up almost entirely of negroes, many of whom had come to St. Louis from cities and towns in distant States.

The influence which Missouri is exercising in the education of the nerre was commented on in the speeches. Another point which received attention from the speakers was the important subject of negro teachers for acgre students. The pupil, it is claimed, cannot be rightly understood except by one of its own race.

B. F. Allen of Jefferson City, president of the Lincoln Institute, presided and delivered the opening address of welcome. He spoke of Lincoln Institute's wide influence for good. Other speakers were: W. M. Farmer. 84 of St. Louis, W. H. Harrison. '00, of Parls, Mo., C. C. Hubbard, '25, of Independence, Mo., and Oscar Spencer, '00, of Galneaville, Tex.

The programme of speeches was interspersed with vocal solos and quartet pieces and a plane 'Solos w. M. Farmer.

ARGENTINE'S EXHIBIT OPENED.

Liberal Arts Palace Show Resources. The Argentine Republic's sections in the Palace of Liberal Arts opened to the publle yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, all the exhibits having been installed there. icio Anasagasti of the Argentine Com mission, under whose direction the dis-plays in the Palace of Liberal Arts have plays in the Palace of Liberal Arts have been made, formally presented the completed exhibits to Colonel J. A. Ockerson, Chief of the Department of Liberal Arts. The exhibits are arranged in two booths, both in the northwest corner of the building. One contains a large collection of the newspapers and other periodicals of the country, and samples of these publications are distributed free to visitors. The other both contains mars and other exhibits relating to public works and other achievements in engineering, several fine relief maps of the harbors and river channels of Argentine being shown.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S DAY

Reproduction of Battle of Santiago The management of the Naval Show at the west end of the Pike has arranged to admit free all children under 14 years old at the Friday performances of the battle of Santiago. Superintendent Soldan of the public schools and many of the teachers will attend.

The reproduction is as instructive as it thrilling and picturesque. The battle of Santiago is rehearsed by miniature steel models of the Oregon; Brooklyn, Iowa and other American war vessels. The Spanish fleet, accurately reproduced

And so it often happens that the wife enters upon the obligations of maternity just as thoughtlessly as she entered on the marriage relation, because no one has warned her of the dangers she faces. Thousands of women become invalids for lack of knowledge of themselves. It is to this large body of women that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription priceless boon, because it strong, sick women well.

"After my first child was born," writes Mrs. Jordan Stout, of Fawcettigap, Frederick Co., Va., "my health was very poor for a long time, and last whiter I was so bad with pain down in back I could hardly move without great suffering. My husband got me a bottle of Dr. Fleror's Paworite Prescription and a vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' which I used as directed. In four days I was greatly relieved, and now, after using the medicine three months. I seem to be entirely well. I can't see why it is that there are so many suffering women when there is such an easy way to be cured. I know your medicines are the best in the world."

The terrific onshaight of shot and shell, ending in the blowing up and disabling of all of the vessels, is one of the most thrilling pieces of realism ever reproduced for a patriotic public.

All children must be accompanied by parents or older persons. The will be admitted to seats in the grand stand free.

Two Sults on Accounts.

The Jerusalem Exhibit Company and the Oriental Construction Company were sued in the Circuit Court yesterday by the St. Louis Rooting Company for E-22.11, and by Anton Fontana for EL-24. The St. Louis Rooting Company alleges that it was engaged to do work on a building by the Oriental Company, and Fontana alleges that he furnished material at the instance of the same concern.

Ladies' Belted Kimono, No. 9854-Pale gray and red figured "kimono" cloth is used for this comfortable negligee, with bands of red mercerized cotton for trimming. Beyond a doubt these Japanese lounging gowns are the most popular at this time of the year, the illustration showing a novelty in this line which may be belted in.

9354-LADIES BELTED KIMONO 32, 36 and 40 inch bust.

The kimono is simply adjusted with shoulder and under-arm seams. Five tucks on the shoulders, back and front, are stitched down to form a square yoke and provide additional width at the lower and provide additional width at the lower edge.

A pattern is provided for a shaped collar and front facing which finish the neck and front edges.

One-piece sleeves fit the upper arm but flare widely in bell effect at the wrist, where they are trimmed with bands of red to match those used on the front. The neck is cut out a trifle in front.

If desired, the belt may be used to draw the back in close to the figure and passed through a slash in the under-arm seam, permitting the front of the kimono to hang loosely, as shown in the small illustration.

Garments in this style may be made of Garments in this style may be made of Garments in this style may be made of plain or figured cotton crape, lawn, batiste, silk or challis, with basels of contrasting color or material for trimming.

To make the kimono in the medium size will require three and one-half yards of material initry, six inches wide, with one yard for trimming. The pattern, No. 2634, is cut in sizes for a 22, 36 and 40 inch bust measure.
